THREAT TO FUTURES OF POLICE STATIONS

REDBRIDGE looks set to lose half of its police stations under proposals put forward by the Mayor of London's office this week to save the Met £500million.

Front counter services at Woodford and Wanstead stations are set to be axed, with that service also reduced in Barking. This will leave Ilford as the only 24-hour station in the borough.

The news is compounded by cuts in neighbouring boroughs. Waltham Forest and Havering each look set to lose four of their five stations, while Barking will go from four down to one.

Boris Johnson's Police and Crime Plan aims to increase the number of officers on the streets, re-deploying them from the back office.

The plan also states that there are currently 136 front counters open to the public, but just 50 crimes per night are reported using that method across the capital.

His proposals suggest that there will be 530 officers on the beat in Redbridge by 2015, compared to 444 in October 2011, with 68 more Safer Neighbourhood Team officers.

The Mayor also wants to reduce the Met's property portfolio by a third – as set out in his Met Estates Strategy – as well as make savings in civilian staff and IT.

"Putting more officers on the streets is key to driving down crime and boosting public confidence in the police and that is why it is at the heart of our plans for policing in the capital," Mr Johnson said.

"In the current economic climate there is no denying that tough decisions will have to be made but policing in the capital is changing and we must change with it by creating a police force that is ready to tackle the issues that matter most to Londoners."

An eight-week consultation on the plans will now take place with the Deputy Mayor for Policing Stephen Greenhalgh and Assistant

CHANGES: Boris Johnson says the plan will put more police officers on the streets.

Commissioner Simon Byrne hosting a meeting in every borough to listen to people's views.

The Redbridge meeting will take place at Redbridge Town Hall on Monday, February 11, from 8pm.

The final plan will be published by April. Labour London-wide Assembly Member Tom Copley said: "This will make it harder for local people to report serious crimes and reduce the police's presence.

"The Mayor's plans will see a loss of many experienced senior officers, which raises obvious concerns about the supervision of police constables."

Leyton and Wanstead MP John Cryer said he would work with the community to 'strongly lobby' the Mayor's Office for Policing and Crime throughout the consultation process.

Council's commitment to Armed Forces personnel

BARKING and Dagenham Council has made a special commitment to members of the Armed Forces and veterans by creating a new portfolio.

Council leader Liam Smith will assume responsibility for the role, which is designed to promote the work and efforts of members of the Armed Forces, as well as ensuring the authority supports those who have served the country.

"Like everyone else, I am deeply proud of our Armed Forces," Mr Smith said. "Their commitment to our nation and to our way of life is unparalleled."

"Those who have served have secured our liberty and freedom and those brave men and women who are in the field of conflict or preserving the peace across the globe right now deserve our thanks."

"I want to make sure that our council recognises the achievements of our men and women in uniform."

"The new responsibilities I have added to my portfolio as Leader means that I will personally be able to drive through policy changes where needed and champion the rights of veterans and their families in everything we do."

As part of the move the council has made a commitment to offer a guaranteed interview for former service personnel for any available council jobs.

"Barking and Dagenham Council is extremely serious about doing our level best to recognise and champion the Armed Forces," Mr Smith added. "Our heroic Armed Forces deserve the very best and I am determined to lead a council that delivers precisely that."

Mother's plea for help in catching son's killer

THE MOTHER of a man killed in Leyton during the 2012 Jubilee weekend has appealed for people to help solve her son's murder.

Marvin Hogan (pictured) is believed to have been in his silver Vauxhall Astra in Windsor Road, Leyton, when he became involved in an altercation on Monday, June 4. The 28-year-old was stabbed in nearby Thornhill Gardens and died the following day.

A reward of up to £20,000 is on offer for information leading to the identification, arrest and prosecution of the person or people responsible for the murder.

Jean Alleyne, Marvin's mother, said: "I would like to appeal to anyone that knows anything about my son's death to come forward, you do not have to leave your name this can be done anonymously. I feel that these were local boys who committed this murder and took my son away at a very young age from the people that loved him.

"I also appeal to family members, aunts, uncles and friends to do the right thing in helping to bring this person to justice that took my son from me and his family so cruelly that Bank Holiday Monday while I was at work.

"This person is still out there walking around free probably not far from where my son was murdered. I want him caught so can have my peace. I will not rest until my son's killer has been found."

The suspects are all described as dark-skinned black men in their early 20s. One is around 5ft 9ins tall and wore a red baseball cap and a black body-warmer. Another was of similar height with an oval, chubby face and his hair in corn rows. He wore a quilted Barbour-style jacket.

One of the men also wore a scarf and had a bag across his shoulder.

Detective Chief Inspector Graeme Gwyn, of the Homicide and Serious Crime Command, said: "Marvin Hogan was stabbed to death whilst he tried to retrieve his car keys from a group of men who stole them from him following an argument and altercation.

"Mr Hogan was stabbed through the heart and left to die on the pavement. We ask anyone who witnessed the sequence of events or anything suspicious to call us.

"We are particularly keen to speak to a passerby who stopped to help Mr Hogan prior to paramedics arriving. The man is described only as being white and carrying a rucksack which he placed under Mr Hogan's head until help arrived."

Marvin's key ring was taken during the incident and remains missing. On the key ring was a Vauxhall Astra car key, an electronic fob for entry into the victim's flat, a red piece of plastic and a silver cross which is black on one side.

Seven men have been arrested in connection with the investigation. Four have been released with no further charge and three have been released on bail pending further enquiries.

Anyone with information should contact the incident room on 020 8721 4805; if you wish to remain anonymous call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Woman, 34, jailed for four years for street robbery on pensioner

A WOMAN who violently robbed an elderly woman last summer in Barkingside has been jailed at Snaresbrook Crown Court.

Samantha Murray, 34, of Genas Close, Ilford, was sentenced to four years imprisonment having been found guilty of robbery last Tuesday following a 14 day trial.

The 83-year-old victim was in Longwood Gardens, Barkingside, on Friday, June 8, when she was attacked from behind. The force used to yank the victim's handbag from her pulled the victim to the ground.

Despite having injuries to her back and hand from the fall, the elderly lady bravely tried to hold on to her bag but her robber was too powerful and made off with it.

The victim was unable to get up after her ordeal and was found on the pavement by a member of the public, who helped her and flagged down a police vehicle.

As the victim was driven around the area by police, she identified Murray as she stood at a bus stop in Cranbrook Road, Ilford. Murray was arrested in possession of the victim's property.

Sergeant Matt Taylor, from Redbridge Police, said: "This was a violent robbery on an elderly lady going about her business. She has found the whole incident distressing and it has had a profound effect on her and the way she lives. It has saddened all involved in this case.

"Whilst I do not want this type of crime to happen, I want the public to know we will robustly investigate any robbery and see that those responsible are brought to justice."

Suspended sentence for owner of dog that attacked young boy

A DAGENHAM man has received a suspended prison sentence after being found guilty of owning a dangerous dog that attacked a child.

A Bull mastiff belonging to Gareth Lawrence, of Sheppy Road, scaled garden fences and ferociously attacked several children playing in a back garden nearby on October 13 last year.

An 11-year-old boy was mauled by the dog, causing deep cuts to the child's arm and back. The child required treatment at Broomfield Hospital, in Chelmsford, and is still undergoing treatment for his injuries.

At Barkingside Magistrates Court last Tuesday, Lawrence was sentenced to 12 weeks in prison suspended for 12 months and ordered to carry out 120 hours of community service.

He will also have to pay £1,000 in compensation to the child, £85 in fines and court costs, £85 victims charter and is banned from keeping or owning any animal for five years.

The Bull mastiff Ben will be put down.

Table tennis equipment handed over to college

SPORTS provision at a local college received a boost with the donation of four table tennis tables by the Jack Petchey Foundation.

The tables will replace the old, worn-out ones at Rush Croft Sports College, in Chingford.

Rebecca Agar, learning leader for PE at the college, said "Our students love playing table tennis but our tables were old and poor quality. These new ones are great and now everyone can play as we run lunchtime and after school clubs. It's a great sport and our students play against other schools in competitions."

This is the second year the foundation has run the scheme along with the England Table Tennis Association. A team competition is running alongside the donation scheme, with the final taking place at Redbridge Sports Centre on Saturday.

Jack Petchey, CBE, the 87-year-old founder of JPF, is passionate about giving young people freedom and opportunity.

"I've been a fan of table tennis since my own youth," he said. "It's a fantastic sport for young people to play and this partnership is popular and growing."

Next Step Fostering open new office in Romford.

Advertising feature

Next Step Fostering, the leading independent fostering agency, has just opened their new office in Romford to provide essential foster care services to the local area.

A family-owned business, Next Step Fostering has provided fostering services for over 25 years across Kent and most areas of London. Romford is now their sixth office.

Many people considering a career as a foster carer think that the local council is their only option. Most are completely unaware that independent fostering organisations even exist.

Next Step Fostering was established 25 years ago by Maureen and Alb Ward – who were foster carers themselves – and therefore had personal experience of caring for vulnerable children.

Next Step Fostering remains a family company as Maureen and Alb's daughter Lesley is the Director and she plays an active role in day to day decisions about the company and enjoys visiting foster carers to hear first hand how they are.

Next Step Fostering has gained an outstanding reputation for providing high quality child care. In the last three consecutive OFSTED inspections, Next Step achieved an 'Outstanding' rating across every standard in which they were assessed – probably the only IFA to achieve this.

A national shortage of foster carers means that children who cannot live with their family are being moved away from their home communities, resulting in a change of school, community, friends and religious contacts. Every day, Next Step receives child referrals from Local Authorities across the South East of England, but due to the high levels of demand, do not have sufficient families to meet the needs of the many children being referred.

As a family run company, Next Step Fostering is able to offer a personal, individual service to its foster carers and children. Supervision, support and training can be tailored to individual needs and foster carers have an open invitation to approach Lesley Ward directly to discuss any issues they may have.

Fostering a child is not an easy task, but it is possibly one of the most rewarding – and thanks to the generous allowance Next Step Fostering pays, many people give up unfulfilling jobs to undertake a career in fostering, where they feel they can really make a difference to young lives.

Clare Aston, Manager of the East London and Thames Valley offices, said "People often worry that they won't be suitable, based on things they have heard from friends or the media, but I would encourage anyone thinking about fostering to speak to us directly. We can answer all of their questions about the type of people we are looking for and what fostering is like."

If you are considering a career in fostering or simply want to learn more, Next Step Fostering are holding an Open Evening at their new office at 1 Brentwood Road, Romford, RH1 2HA between 6.30pm and 8.30pm on 27th February.

A presentation will be given together with a short film, and staff will be available to answer any questions you may have. Light refreshments will be served.

Call Next Step Fostering on 01708 209227 for further information, or visit their web site at www.nextstepfostering.org

GRATEFUL: Children in Montenegro enjoy the gifts donated to the operation.

Dealership thanked for help with appeal

A CHARITY has thanked a car dealership for its help in collecting hundreds of gift-filled shoeboxes to be distributed to disadvantaged children.

The shoeboxes, put together by members of the public, schools, church and community groups and dropped off at Dagenham Motors, in Ripple Road, contained everything from sweets and toys to toothbrushes and felt-tip pens.

They were distributed to children living in orphanages and hospices in countries such as Bosnia, Montenegro and all over Africa, who would otherwise have had no presents to open over the festive period.

More than 8,500 gift-filled shoeboxes were collected by Dagenham Motors and other dealerships in its parent group Ford Retail, which has supported the charity for the past seven years.

LEYTON Sixth Form College welcomed back some of its star students last week to celebrate their academic achievements.

The students, all of whom are now in Higher Education, were praised by the local MP John Cryer, Mayor of Waltham Forest councillor Richard Sweden and cabinet member for young people councillor Clare Coghill at the ceremony.

Risham Saif, who was named as one of the students of the year, said: "The awards ceremony was amazing and demonstrated the commitment of the college to support and inspire students to achieve their best in the classroom, in their extra-curricular activities, and in their lives."

EXPERIENCE: Shane McCusker and Kristian Baycroft with Michael Bush at the Julien's Auctions VIP reception held in LA.

Duo return from Jacko adventure in Los Angeles

TWO media students at Barking and Dagenham College have just returned from Los Angeles after securing key roles in the touring exhibition of the late Michel Jackson's stage costumes.

The adventure began when 18-year-old Shane McCusker, from Dagenham, clinched an interview with Jackson's long-time designer and personal friend Michael Bush at the Irish stop of the exhibition world tour.

Bush later invited Shane to join him and Philip Treacy - milliner to the stars - at their London Fashion Week Catwalk Show. He mingled with guests including Lady Gaga, Kelly Brook, and Dita Von Teese at the VIP fashion show, and it was there that plans for the rest of the tour were discussed.

Shane was invited, along with his business partner Kristian Baycroft, 19, from Barking, to help set-up and run the London exhibition at Westfield Stratford City.

The enterprising young duo spotted a business opportunity: to offer fans a chance to pose for a souvenir photo alongside one of Jackson's iconic jackets.

They built a website overnight to host the images for customers to download, and as a result of their business savvy, have thousands of photos and hours of footage from the numerous exhibitions.

During their visit to LA, Shane and Kristian secured front row seats at the world-famous Julien's Auctions in Beverly Hills, where Jackson's costumes went under the hammer.

Lady Gaga bought 55 items, spending vast amounts of money, with just one jacket from the iconic collection selling for £148,418. The pair managed to secure some mementos of their trip, including signed copies of Bush's book and a prototype T-shirt, designed to be sold at Jackson's ill-fated London comeback shows.

"It was a great project to be involved in" said Kristian, who has moved on to study media and communications at Birmingham City University.

The talented young duo also run a film production company 'Wider Horizon' and their earnings from the tour will help fund their first feature film later in 2013.

Two tone icon to reveal all in festival

Pauline Black shot to fame in 1979 as the lead singer of Two Tone group The Selecter. In 2011 she published her memoirs, which recount how her childhood was marred by racism and sexual abuse. Ahead of an appearance at the Essex Book Festival, she tells Yellow Advertiser reporter Charles Thomson why both issues are just as important now as they ever were.

OLDER pop fans will remember Pauline Black bursting onto the scene in 1979 as the animated lead singer of Two Tone group The Selecter. Their single On My Radio hit number eight on the UK chart after an appearance on Top of the Pops and their debut album Too Much Pressure reached number five.

Despite critical acclaim the group split in 1982.

Pauline went on to star in films and theatre productions, as well as taking part in several reunions with her former band mates.

In 2011 her memoirs, Black By Design, were released to widespread critical acclaim.

As well as the regular rock & roll recollections, her book tackles big issues such as racism and child abuse.

The product of an interracial affair, she was adopted by a white family in Romford at a time when it was still unusual to see a black person. She was the only dark-skinned pupil in her school.

The National Front handed out leaflets in her area.

"There were colour bars in clubs and pubs," she recalls. "If you had a black doctor that was cause for some degree of concern."

It wasn't just racist abuse Pauline suffered as a child, but sexual abuse as well.

In the book she recounts being molested by a family friend (long since dead) for several years.

"It wasn't so much what happened," she says. "It was the fact that I wasn't necessarily believed. I find that in the wake of the Jimmy Savile business I can very much identify with those women who tried to tell their stories and just weren't believed."

"The Savile scandal hasn't shocked me. If anything it compounded what I thought already."

"I didn't think that I was some special case. Over the years I've spoken to other people who had been similarly abused and I get the feeling that it is everywhere."

Just as the Savile scandal has convinced her that child abuse is as big a problem as it ever was, the 2011 riots convinced her that racism is alive and well too.

In an extra chapter in the second edition of her book she sympathises with those who took to the streets in anger.

"I thought that I would be abdicating any kind of principles I had if I didn't say something about the riots," she explains. "The whole way of thinking I developed through my time in The Selecter was that it's much better to face the problem of racism head on and try to understand it, rather than just jumping to conclusions that this happened and therefore these people should be put in prison, which is really what happened with our kangaroo courts at the time."

So she sees the riots as a race issue?

"Race is certainly an element within it. Whenever something enormous blows up like that, it's usually a tiny thing that fuels it. Then all sorts of different problems and people's prejudices come to bear on it."

Coming from a working class background, she identifies with the alienation of some of the rioters.

"If you have an enormous disparity between wealth and the unemployed then you're gonna have problems," she says. "Doesn't matter what colour you are. Last week they cut the benefits so, of course, it's going to be even worse now."

"If somebody's benefit is about 50 quid a week, a one per cent cut is definitely going to be felt more than a cut to a wealthy person's income."

"They probably spend that person's yearly benefits on a meal out. It's ridiculous."

She has been pleased to see young people coming to her book events to learn about what life was like just a few decades ago in Britain.

"I think you have to know your history before you can really do something about the present time," she says. "Soon the struggle is not going to be mine, it's going to be theirs, so if I can put even a little bit into that pot and somebody picks it up and runs with it then I'm going to be happy."

◆ Pauline will appear at Grays Library at 7.30pm on Wednesday, March 6. Tickets cost £5, or £4 for concessions. To book, call 01206 573948.

Join firefighters on mud run to raise hospice cash

A TEAM of 15 firefighters based at fire stations in east London are gearing up to join in an adrenaline and mud fuelled obstacle challenge in aid of Saint Francis Hospice.

Readers can take part in the outdoor challenge too.

The firefighters – from Hornchurch, Romford, Thurrock and neighbouring towns – are taking part in mud ‘n’ madness on Saturday, February 9.

The event held at Stubbers Adventure Centre, in Ockendon Road, near Upminster, is set over a 7.5km muddy course.

Participants face a series of army style challenges, 800m of canoeing on the water, a 1,400m run, river crossing, obstacle course and a 2,400m run.

Among the team of fire-fighters is Nick Sadler, from Thurrock, who is returning after participating in mud ‘n’ madness last year.

Nick said: “The event is a laugh and is good for team bonding. My colleague Dave Egan is from Collier Row and his dad was cared for by Saint Francis Hospice community team so it’s great to be able to raise funds for them to provide their specialist care.”

You can enter on your own or as a team of three. Places are £35 for individuals and £100 for teams of three and you will be asked to raise as much sponsorship as you can for Saint Francis Hospice.

Nick added: “Although we enter as teams, we all catch up with each other and end up as one big team as you get some people good at running and others better at canoeing. You don’t really need to train for this event, just a willingness to get muddy and take on the challenges so why not join us and support the hospice?”

If you would like to find out more or sign-up as part of the hospice team call Lauren on 01708 771405 or e-mail fundraising@sfh.org.uk

Leyton Orient

O's knocked out of FA Cup

By Rowland Lyons at the Matchroom Stadium

LEYTON Orient suffered extra-time agony on Tuesday night after Tom Cairney's 118th minute knockout blow dumped them out of the FA Cup third round.

Dean Cox's strike four minutes from the end of normal time cancelled out Nick Proschwitz's stunning first-half opener, but the O's were twice denied by offside flags on a night they more than matched their Premiership-hopeful visitors.

Orient thought they had taken a 21st minute lead when Cox's powerful drive was deflected on to a post by Eldin Jakupovic and David Mooney instinctively crashed home the rebound, only to be halted by an offside flag.

Hull took a long time to settle, but it was a touch of class from the expensive import, Proschwitz, who started a fine move before spectacularly netting from Liam Rosenior's 41st minute pass.

The O's were clearly stunned by the German's goal and Jones kept his side in the tie with a superb 66th minute save from Jay Simpson, who had swapped passes with Proschwitz after beating three defenders.

On 71 minutes the O's had the ball in the net again – but this time it was Lee Cook's turn to see his effort disallowed after Moses Odubajo's drive was parried by Jakupovic.

Orient did finally get their reward when Cox gambled and went for goal with a Van Basten-style strike that fooled Jakupovic and nestled in the top corner.

In the final 15 minutes the O's had chances to win the tie with Mooney and Michael Symes both wasting good opportunities, before Cairney hit a bobbling 25 yarder – that Jones would have been disappointed to allow to pass under his body – to put the Tigers into the next round.

Boss Russell Slade admitted: "We have done more than enough over the two games to win the tie. I thought we acquitted ourselves excellently tonight and we took the game to them from the first minute.

"To a man they just gave everything; they couldn't give any more for any other cause. We still looked the more likely team to get the result. Our goal did look a bit fortunate, but we were a little bit unfortunate to be one-nil down at half-time.

◆ Orient travel to second-placed, Doncaster Rovers, this Saturday (kick-off 3pm) and make the short trip to Brentford next Tuesday (kick-off 7.45pm).

Woodford youngsters through to semi final

Rugby Union

WOODFORD Under 14s turned around last season's league defeat to beat Burnham and win a place in the Essex Cup final.

It was a tough game for the youngsters at Burnham, but their hard work paid off as they took a 12-29 victory.

Despite falling behind, Woodford levelled through Jed West's try, which he also converted at 7-7, and took a 7-17 lead into half-time with further tries from Will Carey and West, both unconverted.

Woodford started the second half sluggishly and allowed Burnham to sense a revival, which they took with an unconverted try at 12-17.

With Taylor Wilkins on at prop, the Woodford scrum continued to dominate and overwhelm the opposition.

A Burnham attack was stopped by a Carey tackle but the resultant nose bleed saw him go off and on came James Wallace.

A re-shuffle in the backs changed Woodford's fortunes and a series of plays gave Henry Sharland some space on the right to beat two players and score near the corner. The conversion was missed to make it 12-22.

Burnham gave a spirited performance but the Woodford tackling was secure.

Another attack and Mick Chamberlain launched West with a well timed pass and he drove over and then converted his own try with a touch line conversion before the final whistle.

Coach Charles Wallace said: "The boys had to work hard for this win and it is a credit to them and the work they put in. A place in the cup semi final was up for grabs and we took it."

Lions show improvements in defeats

Ice Hockey

LEE VALLEY Lions turned in their best hockey of the season so far, but suffered back-to-back one-goal defeats at the Romford Fury and at home to the Bristol Pitbulls.

Bristol came to the Lee Valley Ice Centre as the in-form team of the English National League looking for their fifth consecutive win, but despite taking a first period lead, found a Lions squad hitting new heights.

Goals from Harry Bishop, Scott Beeson, Joe Berry and Chris Fox gave Lee Valley a 4-3 second period lead, but Bristol struck back with two late goals to take a 5-4 edge into the final period.

A Bristol breakout saw them net for 6-4 in the 46th minute, but top-scorer Beeson was set away by Richard Hodge to score a shorthanded goal to keep it close up until the buzzer.

Fox and Hodge went within inches of an equaliser, but Bristol skated away with a hard-earned 6-5 win.

The defeat came a week after a 3-2 reverse in Romford, in a game between teams with very different ambitions.

The Fury are aiming for promotion while the Lions went to Essex looking for their first point of the campaign, but, despite a slow start by the Lions, there was little to choose between the sides for much of the game.

The Fury led 2-0 early in the second but Adam Peach, assisted by Phil Carlson, and Theo Abban on a breakaway, scored to level the game going into a tight final period.

With netminder Aaron Mallet again in great form, the contest went down to the final two minutes, Romford scoring when the puck trickled inches over the line in the dying moments.

The Lions have improved offensively since the Christmas and were unlucky in both matches not to pick up points, but now look forward to the visit of the Isle of Wight on February 2 to try and break their duck, face off at Lee Valley Ice Centre at 5.15pm.

Rugby Union

Barking's joy with first win this season

BARKING picked up their first win in National Two this season at the 17th time of asking on Saturday, beating Chinnor 36-24.

It looked to be the same story as Chinnor went 3-14 ahead after 17 minutes following Oliver Forrest's early penalty for Barking.

However, a try from Charles Baffour-Awuah followed by a brace from Stephen Hihetah put Barking 24-17 ahead, both converted by Forrest.

Chinnor levelled through Adrian Hales' try, converted by Will Millett, but Barking refused to lie down as Hihetah claimed his hat-trick, and James Fouracre went over the line with five minutes to go, converted by Forrest, as they also picked up the bonus point.

Barking's win saw them reach seven points, ten behind Southend who lost 24-22 at Lydney in a relegation scrap.

Southend went into half-time 14-15 ahead thanks to tries from Todd Bailey, Mark Billings and a drop goal from Sam Arnott, while Andrew Frost kicked a conversion.

However, Lydney fought back in the second half as Daniel Trigg kicked a penalty, and scored a conversion on 69 minutes following Dave Bennett's try.

Andrew McClintock went over the line late on for Southend, converted by Frost, but it was too late and they find themselves six points from safety.

In National Three London & South East, West-cliff's relegation worries deepened with a 36-11 defeat at Hertford, leaving them nine points from safety. Thurrock are only six points above the drop zone after suffering another loss, this time at Old Elthamians by 28-25.

Eton Manor beat Chingford 56-0 to remain the play-off spot in London One North.

Bottom side Rochford Hundred lost 41-15 at Ruislip, while Basildon helped their relegation battle with a 12-5 victory over Romford & Gidea Park. They moved above Beaconsfield who lost 43-3 at Brentwood.

In London Three North East, South Woodham Ferrers continue to head the table, beating fellow contenders Norwich 22-16.

They are four points clear of Wanstead who won 19-17 over Sudbury, while Upminster are in touch thanks to their 40-8 win over Wisbech.

Old Brentwoods lost 13-9 at Beccles while Canvey Island beat bottom side East London to ease their relegation fears.

Chelmsford's run in the London & South East Intermediate Cup came to end, losing 8-16 at home to Portsmouth in the third round tie.

City's Trophy run ends while Urchins hold leaders

Non League Football

CHELMSFORD City's run in the FA Trophy came to an end on Saturday as they went down 3-0 at Blue Square North's FC Halifax.

Goals from Liam Needham (12, 60) and Jason St Juste (53) settled the third round tie leaving the Claret's to now focus on their promotion push from Blue Square South.

AFC Hornchurch held leaders Salisbury City to a 2-2 draw at the Hornchurch Stadium.

An own goal from Michael Spencer sent Urchins behind, but Martin Tuohy (81) brought them back into the match through the penalty spot.

Jamie White (83) restored Salisbury's lead but Tuohy earned a point for the Urchins in stoppage time, again with a penalty.

Billericay Town had Charlie Taylor sent off after just 25 minutes at bottom side Truro City, but Jay May (5, 48, 68, 75) scored all of his side's goals, with Martin Watts (55) and Kieffer Moore (79) scoring for the hosts.

In Ryman League Premier, Canvey Island dropped to fifth on Tuesday night after losing 1-0 at home to Bury Town.

John Sands scored the only goal of the match on 24 minutes.

The Gulls saw off Thurrock on Saturday 2-0 with Bradley Woods-Garness (20, 74) on target. East Thurrock United moved into the top half of the table with a 2-1 win at Bury Town.

After a goalless first half, Sands (51) broke the deadlock to put Bury ahead, but Liam Burgess levelled seven minutes later and Kye Ruel (71) scored the winner.

Grays Athletic moved up to second in Ryman North on Tuesday night, hitting six past Sudbury with no reply.

Jeff Hammond (1, 15, 25, 32, 55) scored five of their goals, with Craig Pope adding a sixth on 66 minutes.

Maldon & Tiptree's run of ten consecutive wins came to an end on Saturday after being held to a goalless draw at home by Waltham Abbey.

Near neighbours Heybridge Swifts, also played out a goalless draw at Witham Town.

Grays won at Needham Market with Hammond netting the only goal of the game, while fourth place Aveley won 5-1 over Chatham Town at Mill Field.

The Millers were 2-0 up inside the first 10 minutes thanks to Matt Newman's own goal and a Junior Dadson shot. Lee Hales soon pulled a goal back for Chatham but Dadson (75) extended Aveley's lead and Jordan Cox made sure with a late double.

At the bottom, Ilford suffered a 4-0 defeat at promotion chasers Thamesmead Town. Danny Francis scored a double, Emiel Aiken made it 3-0 and Jamie Forshaw scored late on.

Ilford remain a point behind Redbridge and Ware. The former lost 1-0 at Harlow Town with Mitchell Das scoring against his former club.

Romford did their near rivals a favour by beating Ware 4-1. Boro were 3-0 clear at half-time with goals from Nick Reynolds, who scored twice, and Matt Toms.

Charlie Moxom (70) gave Ware hope but Jack Barry restored Romford's three-goal advantage.

The relegation scrap looks to be between these three as there is a 14-point gap between them and 19th place.

Brentwood Town have many games in hand over their rivals, but lost ground in the play-off battle with a 1-0 defeat at Waltham Forest. Arian Retkoceri scored the winner five minutes from time.
